The year 1970 marked the 75th anniversary of Charity Hospital School of Nursing. In organizing this event an entire new roster of graduates of the School was developed and provides a current listing. The updating of School Policies has been in as much of a building phase as construction of the new educational building. In order to continue and strengthen her personal contact with the entire student body, Sister Blanche has arranged regular sessions of the Director's Roll Call with each class. Through these activities the students meet the Director of Charity Hospital School of Nursing.

A student's review of the Sciences —

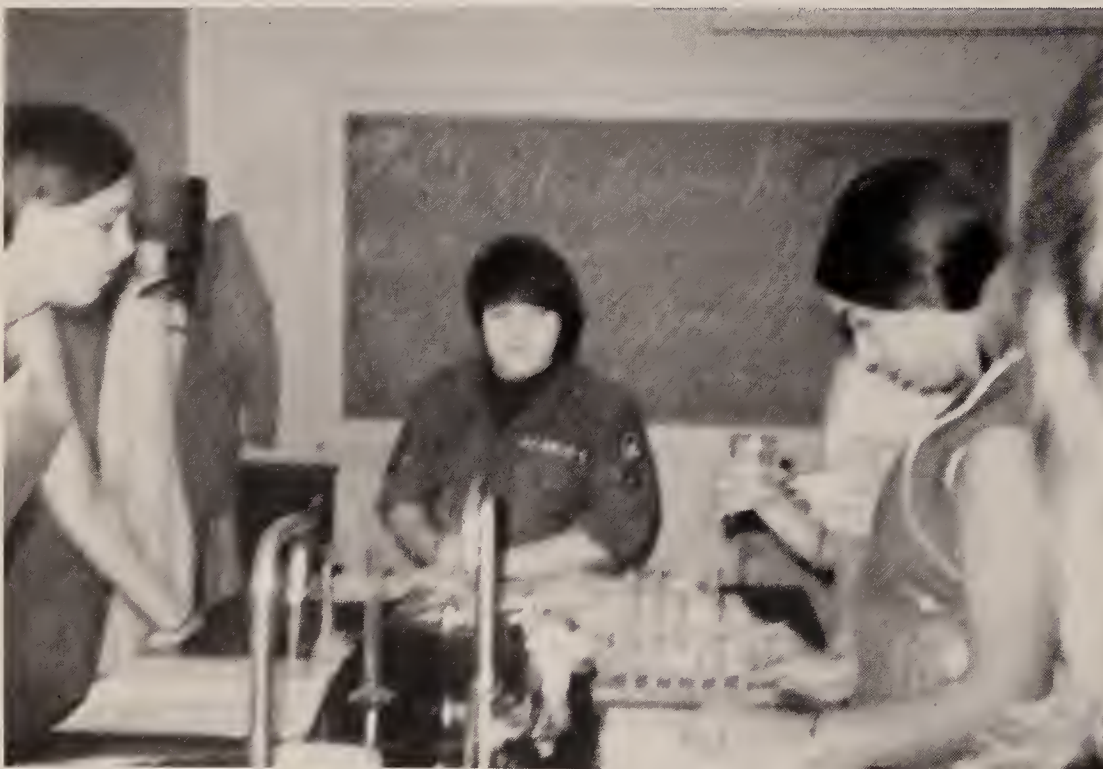

As the material of the basic sciences was new to the freshman students, so were four of the science instructors to the faculty.

In Anatomy and Physiology, surveys of all the integrated systems which form the body and maintain it in a proper state were studied.

Nutrition provided the student with current concepts of the scientific principles and their application to meet physiological and psychological needs, and also conformation to the individual's socio-economic background.

The nursing student learned the basic principles of Microbiology with special emphasis on the application to her daily practice of nursing.

In Chemistry, the students gained knowledge of the application of the basic principles of inorganic, organic, and biochemistry to the processes of the human body and their importance to nursing.

Nursing is caring

Fundamentals of Nursing was based upon three broad principles which were involved in the care of every patient. Basically these principles were related to "Man as a person," "Man as an organism," and "Man and his environment."

These principles concerned maintaining the individuality of man, maintaining physiologic functioning in man, and protecting man from external causes of illness or injury.

Being the first clinical experience for the students, they learned such procedures as bedmaking, positioning and providing diversion for the patient, giving medications, doing medical treatments and other basic essentials to nursing care.

Students in the baby's world!

Obstetrics offered a variety of experiences to the students this year. These experiences included care of the premature and normal babies, care of the mother before, during and after labor, and office experiences with local obstetricians. Having cared for the babies, students learned the importance of cleanliness, careful handling, and alert observations in the care of the newborn.

Nursing can also be fun!

Nursing of Children was more than just the physical and medical attention given to children. Also included in the course was the individual recreational care necessary to meet the complete needs of the child. The students achieved this by actively participating in play sessions with the children.

Medical Nursing 171 is a basic nursing course given in the Junior year. Changes in the course this year included an orientation week and class all day every Tuesday. On other days of the week the students were in the clinical area for eight hour days. The content was not changed, but the method of presentation has been changed.

TOP: As in all fields of nursing, reassurance and support are essential in Medicine. Here two students reassure and care for this patient's needs. LEFT: Proper positioning is used here by students as a preventative measure.

Psychiatric nursing — where the Therapist is the therapy!

Establishing helpful nurse - patient relationships was the theme of the course in psychiatric nursing, with emphasis on understanding behavior and purposeful use of self. A welcome addition this year was the affiliation with the Veterans Administration Hospital for nursing experience. Through such planned experiences as establishing one-to-one relationships, participating in group activities with patients, and independent study projects, opportunities were provided to gain a better understanding of all persons and the ability to use the concepts of psychiatric nursing in all areas of nursing practice.

RIGHT: Sing-a-longs on the porch are enjoyed by the patients at Charity. BELOW: Mrs. Gimber's group enjoy psychiatric nursing at Veterans Administration Hospital.

Outpatient nursing is teaching, caring and preventing

During the experience in Clinic and Community Nursing students taught a series of classes to six mothers. They discussed 260 lessons on health promotion and illness prevention and showed 100 films on health topics to over 1600 people in the Outpatient Clinics.

The students visited nearly 300 patients and their families to bring them health information. Some of these patients were referred by students who had cared for them on the wards and were interested in the continuity of their care. Other patients were visited as personal follow-ups from the clinics.

Four days at De Paul Mental Health Clinic was an added experience this year for the students. Students also experienced 3 weeks in the hospital accident room during this block.

Room 201

If unity is what we aspire, then let us begin now. Now, while our minds are open, and our bodies strong.

If citizenship is what we want realized, then let us continue now. Now, while our senses are acute; and our involvement, deep.

Charity Hospital Association of Nurses

CHSN is a pre-professional organization designed to meet the needs of the professional nursing student. Membership is open to all students.

The goals of the organization are to promote increased interest in all phases of nursing and nursing activity, to acquaint students with the problems faced by graduate nurses today, and to serve as a link between other pre-professional and professional nursing organizations on local, state, and national levels.

There is no doubt that CHASN will continue to be an important part of CHSN.

CHARITY HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION OF STUDENT NURSES

To best accomplish its goals, CHASN, offered to its members a well-balanced program consisting of monthly meetings at which guest speakers talked on topics centered around nursing.

Those who were members of CHASN discovered that "belonging" meant working together.

C-Club offers service

Admittedly, students are concerned about being independent and self-sufficient; but they also feel a strong need to belong to someone or something. Their attempts to satisfy this need can take many forms - developing a special group of friends or becoming immersed in an organization. Those who choose an organization discover that "belonging" means working together on decorations, planning parties and performing school service projects.

C-Club began a busy and exciting year for the club. 75th Anniversary ... Halloween Snack Shop ... Thanksgiving Party ... Children's Christmas Party ... Monthly Zodiac Bulletin ...

Let's Get Together!

Through participation, C-Club has held its place on campus and will ever continue to strive for the feeling of togetherness at CHSN.

BSO, CHSN's newest club, has made its place on campus as an organization possessing much drive and enthusiasm.

BSO has been a credit and an asset to its members.

BSO endeavors to broaden the scope of black students' existence in the school.

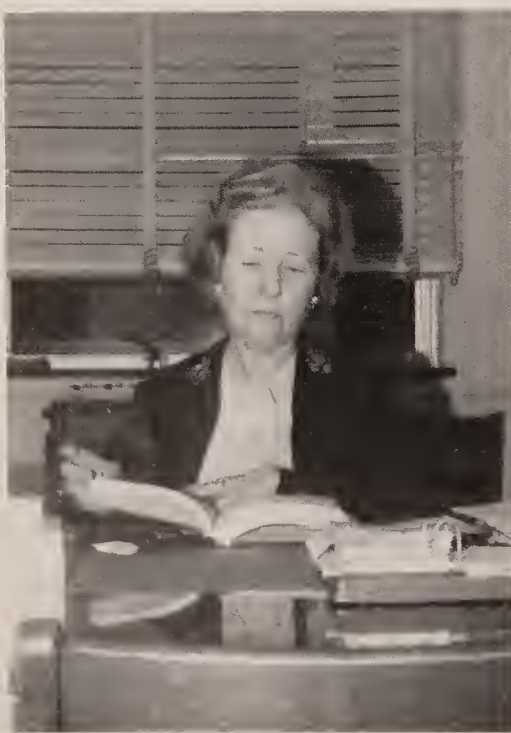

Library Club

The Library Club is a club of action whose purpose is to render service to the school and provide assistance to the librarians whenever necessary.

It promotes cooperation while providing services and while helping to develop a responsible attitude among the students.

Sigma Alpha Chi

Sigma Alpha Chi promotes intelligent living and high standards of learning by encouraging superior attainment among students. It seeks to awaken in the students a realization that each individual is solely responsible for their own achievement, which with earnest endeavor she may build each year.

To be eligible for membership one must have maintained a cumulative quality point average of 2.2 after completion of the first semester of the Junior year, manifested leadership and interest in at least two school activities and who are of good moral character.

The official pledge administered by Sr. Blanche. Director of the School of Nursing, to new 1970-1971 members.

Baptist Student Union

Opportunities for fellowship are among the things BSU seeks to offer its members. Its function is to remind each student of his responsibility as a Christian citizen and to the world in which he lives. Planned activities provide stimulation and guidance of intellectual inquiry into the Christian faith, spiritual guidance and advice and deliberate encouragement of each to use his God-given talents.

Mr. Don Rogers, Sponsor; discusses the Bible as Varie Yaryan listens.

Emotional and spiritual growth is the objective of BSU.

Choral Club

This year the meetings and social functions held by Choral Club provided not only fun, but also a means for social development. Members demonstrated much drive and enthusiasm in their campus activities, serving as a benefit to the campus as well as to themselves.

Capes and Capes

With a new staff, plans for a new edition, new editors, and the determination to produce a superb yearbook, this year's staff set out to produce CHSN's best yearbook yet.

Many hours of work by many people are represented in this 1971 edition of Caps and Capes. This finished book represents the result of a memorable book, which not only depicts the past, but looks hopefully to the future of Charity Hospital School of Nursing.

Making this year's yearbook took endless hours of drawing layouts, writing copy, and typing all the fill ins.

Things to Remember . . .

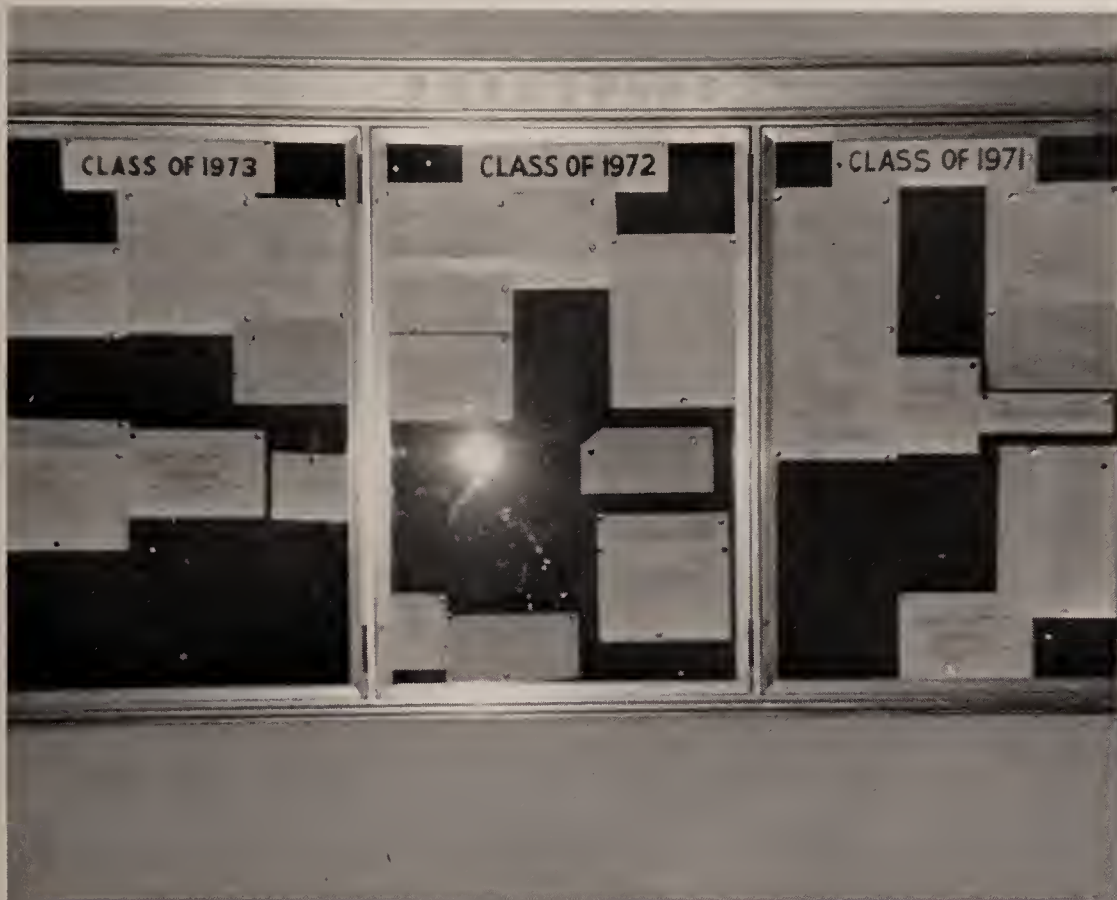

Things to remember are those that will never be experienced again. Nursing school, its ups, its downs, the people one meets, and the places one remembers -

These are things to remember:

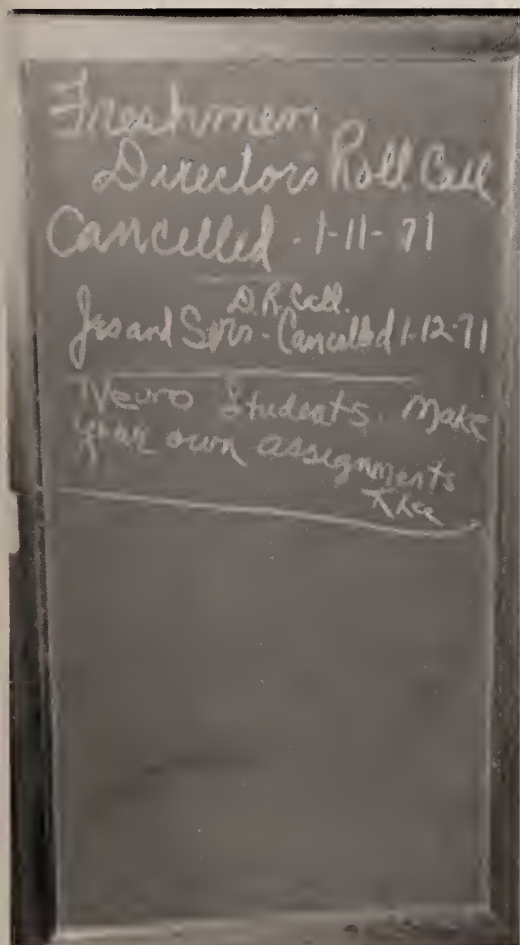

School nights, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights at the Clinic. Boy, were those some good times!!!

Ten more minutes and then the doors will be locked! Sure hope that everyone that comes in after that will have a free 2 o'clock!!!

Getting used to reading the bulletin boards every day took time at first, but after the first couple of missed meetings, and such - I read that board!!!

I hope everyone shows up at Joe's like they said ...

For each, his dream is the most sacred of dreams. This possession he cherishes with the deepest devotion, nurturing it with a reverent effort no other individual can experience. He alone can dream his dream. He alone can make that dream a reality to share with others - the cocoon of that dream embodies the highest of his ideals. Then, just as a butterfly, beautiful and strong, emerges the metamorphosis, so does one individual's dream become the beauty and strength by which he builds his future - and aids mankind.
